TREVOR STATION ROBBED

Lone Robber Loots Depot In Broad Daylight on Wednesday

GETS $25.00 AND TICKETS

Captured Later at Oetting Bros. Boarding House at Camp Lake—Gave His Name as Berry

Wednesday forenoon our neighboring village, Trevor, was the scene of a little unusual excitement when the depot was entered and robbed in broad daylight, the haul consisting of twenty-five dollars in cash and a few round trip tickets which the thief took the trouble to stamp.

In the early part of the forenoon Tom Gaggin who was on his way to Salem met a young man journeying south on foot, just south of the farm owned by Chas. Wilton. The fellow stopped Gaggin, enquired for work, stating that he had applied at the Wilton place and although they had no help at the present time they had two men engaged and therefore did not need him. Tom thought for a moment and then said, "I guess you can find all the work that you want at Trevor." Upon being directed there the fellow asked for a ride and Tom obligingly gave him a lift. The chap gave a peculiar name that would lead one to believe that he was of the Polish descent and talked as though he had resided in Waukegan. In order to test him a little Gaggin asked him "who was street commissioner there now?" and the fellow without hesitation replied "Rob Smart" thus showing that he was somewhat familiar with the place.

When the two reached the corner the stranger dismounted, thanked Gaggin for his kindness and walked away in the direction of Trevor.

He arrived at the depot about ten o'clock and purchased a ticket to Silver Lake, and to all appearance was waiting for the train. Soon after the stranger's arrival Station Agent Carlson locked up the depot and made a hasty trip to the post office. Upon his return he immediately saw that a window had been broken open and the cash drawer tampered with, and was just in time to see the man's back as he disappeared up the track in the direction of Camp Lake. Mr. Carlson telegraphed ahead to have the fellow arrested and then summoned Deputy Sheriff Mutz and gave chase.

Instead of the fellow going straight to Camp Lake he cut across and soon reached Oetting's where he stated that he was enroute from New York to San Francisco and asked that he might be allowed a few hours rest. His request was granted and he was given a room, although his peculiar nervous actions had given rise to suspicions. He did not remain long in the room before he reappeared clad in different attire, but was prevented from resuming his trip by the arrival of Carlson and Mutz who placed him under arrest. When arrested he gave his name as Berry which was quite different from the one he had given to Gaggin. He was taken to Kenosha to await trial.

He is described as being an overgrown boy of about sixteen or eighteen years of age, with an unmistakable foreign appearance.

PROPHET DRIVES SNAKES FROM ZION CITY

Emulating blessed St. Patrick of old, a religious fanatic of Zion City, who calls himself the "prophet of section 16," which may refer to a sleeping car or a railroad track gang, anathematized the snakes of Zion City and banned them from the limits of the city of the white dove, Grasshoppers, inch worm, caterpillars, and such like were not included, and are resting easily as are all the bugs.

The cursing of the snakes took place with a great deal of ceremony, and is solemnly expected to net results.

Easy One for Him.

Diddler lured two or three to take a drink, and was telling big stories about himself. "Come," said one of the party, "you have told us what you can do; now tell us what you cannot do." "Well, that's easily done," replied Diddler. "I can't pay for the drinks you have just had."

MILK LAWS DISCUSSED

Producers Meet Joint Committee in Elgin Monday of this week.

Measures designed to insure sanitary milk for Illinois consumers were discussed by the joint committee of the state legislature delegations of supervisors from DeKalb, Will, Boone, McHenry, DuPage, Kendall, Kane and Lake counties in Elgin Monday.

Health Commissioner Evans of Chicago, his assistant Dr. Kohler, Milk Inspector Canfield of Chicago, assigned to Kane County, and Alderman Taylor a member of the Chicago city council committee, which has recommended the tuberculin test and pasteurization of milk for Chicago, were among the conferees.

The delegates were the guests of Representative Frank W. Shepard of Elgin. They dined at the Elk's club rooms, where the conference followed.

Speaker Shurtleff, who is chairman of the joint legislative committee, presided, and in his opening remarks took credit for having smothered in committee a bill introduced at last session providing for optional tuberculin testing of cows and carrying an appropriation of $150,000 and a bill providing that all cattle brought into the state be tuberculin tested. The second passed the senate.

"Chicago's city council Shurtleff said has passed ordinances that compel producer's selling milk for consumption in Chicago to have their cows tested, and the committees named are those that supply Chicago."

"Our committee has heard evidence of the Chicago health commission and from scientific men over the state and has been furnished evidence in the Montclair case, and we are ready to turn this over to the Milk Producer's committee as any time."

"I am of the opinion that we ought to pass a law of some kind and am confident that this committee of producers can get together on common ground with the Chicago commission."

The delegation organized and adjourned to meet again in about two months.

The Producers named Elmer J. Fellows of St. Charles as chairman, Willard Owen of Will County as secretary and Ray Paddock of Lake County as treasurer.

Ralph Chittenden of Gurnee, C. G. Small of Prairie View and Ray Paddock represented Lake County at this meeting.

A NEW ELECTRIC PROJECT

Wynn and Orvis Create Very Favorable
Sentiment for New Line

From Wauconda to Palatine and Volo, Lake and neighboring counties are again alive with favorable sentiment towards a new electric project, only this time the project is the familiar Robert D. Wynn plan of a line west from Waukegan.

The first net result of the feeling in favor of an electric road to this now almost inaccessible portion of the vicinity of Waukegan was a public meeting Wednesday night at Oakland Pavilion in Wauconda.

As is well known, lately Robert D. Wynn, the head of the project, and Attorney J. K. Orvis have been working up plans for the lake road anew, and have been making trips through the county seeking to interest the people.

From Wauconda to Palatine and Volo feeling in favor of the road is red hot, except that the Waucondians and others desire and have the promise that the first stretch of the proposed lake road will be built between Wauconda and Palatine.

There is now nearly three million idle money in Waukegan, and nearly seven million in Lake and McHenry counties. The people of Wauconda and vicinity have promised to open the barrels, or in fact knock the heads off if the road will build between Wauconda and Palatine first.

In general the plan is to get 500 men along the proposed route to give $200 or more or less to make up about $100,000 when the road will be built at once and afterwards probably bonded to make other links possible.

The road would connect with the Northwestern at Palatine and make fine connections for Wauconda and vicinity. It is also proposed to extend the line into the Fox Lake region, taking in Antioch and on to Wilmet.

Enlightening.

A little girl of two years, when asked recently by a stranger, "Who are you?" quickly answered, "Mamma's darling and daddy's pal."

Notice to Horse Owners.

Having had years of experience I will be on the road castrating colts as usual. All communications will be promptly attended to. John McGuire, Antioch, Ill.

HOWARD ARRESTED TUESDAY

Was Fined for Exceeding the Speed Limit in the Village
During Auto Parade

SEVENTEEN AUTOS IN LINE

The Waukegan Day Advertising Caravan
Made a Fine Parade and Bear Fruit
for Celebration Next Week

The Waukegan Day Advertising Caravan reached Antioch on schedule time Tuesday forenoon, the parade consisting of seventeen flag bedecked autos and a crowd of about seventy jolly boosters, who promiscuously distributed their advertising matter about town.

One of the most amusing features of the trip was pulled off here. Among the crowd and driving the last machine to arrive was Jos. Howard, the popular song and play writer and owner of the Barrison theatre at Waukegan, and he it was whom the others selected to make the "goat" of a practical joke.

A few moments after arriving here Mr. Howard was approached by Marshal Hooper, and placed under arrest on charge of speeding. He vigorously protested against the proceeding, declaring forcibly that he was not guilty. However the Marshal was firm and to his humiliation he was marched to the News office amid a large crowd of spectators and a trial was at once held before Justice J. C. James. The warrant was sworn out by Village Attorney Runyard and Mayor Buck and Deputy Ceroner Conrad acting as chief witness. They testified that the defendant was guilty of willfully and maliciously exceeding the speed limit by driving his car at the rate of from two to seven miles per hour, and then Howard began to tumble.

The defendant testified in his own behalf saying that as his was the last machine he could not have been speeding, and he asked that a warrant be issued against Mayor Buck for grand larceny, at it was he who had robbed him of the opportunity to make better time. John Drury as a personal friend of Mr. Howard was next called upon to testify and his testimony appeared to settle the affair in the mind of the judge who imposed a fine of $7.40 and costs to the extent of thirty-nine cents. The defendant appealed to the Waukegan bench to lend him the amount promising that in return he would give them a box of "Tom Linton and the Jungle Girls," but tempting as the offer was they refused. Later the fine was suspended on condition that he treat the crowd and sing a song. He made good in both instances by setting up the drinks and by singing in his inimitable manner "Has Anybody Here Seen Kelly," after which he was allowed to go peacefully on his way. And the queer part of it all was that Howard had planned to play a joke on some one else.

MRS. HOGAN NARROWLY ESCAPES DEATH

Friends of Mrs. Thomas Hogan of Russell were shocked on Sunday morning when they learned of an accident that had occurred the previous evening, from which she very narrowly escaped with her life.

While crossing the St. Paul tracks at Russell Saturday evening her rig was struck by a work train which passed through there at five o'clock.

The accident was due to the obstruction of the view of the main track as a result of freight cars having been left at the crossing while a train was switching in the yards. She was driving a double team and did not notice the train until she was almost on the track. The horses becoming frightened sprang across, leaving the buggy directly in the path of the oncoming engine, which struck the front wheels, throwing Mrs. Hogan onto the cow catcher of the engine, while the lines which broke loose from harness became entangled around her holding her there securely until the engineer could stop his train.

Witnesses to the accident expected to see her fall and be ground to pieces beneath the wheels, but when the train was stopped she was taken from the cowcatcher uninjured but considerably dazed.

The buggy was smashed to pieces but the horses were uninjured.

Mrs. Hogan's escape is counted nothing short of miraculous.

KILLED BY N. W. TRAIN

Ricka Odh of Lake Forest Met
Death Because Engineers
Cannot Blow Whistles

GIRL'S ESCORT IS MISSING

Inquest Develops that Engineer Obeyed
Instructions and Failed to Blow the Whistle at Dangerous Crossing

The fact that Northwestern trains through Lake Forest are not permitted to blow whistles at the crossings due to a protest of the millionaires that they must not be disturbed in sleeping hours has cost a life, it is currently reported.

The life was that of Ricka Odh, who was run down by a train late Sunday night and injured so that she died.

It is said that engineers have been known to be laid off for blowing their whistles within the city limits.

The testimony in the main developed at the inquest over Miss Odh.

It came to light that Miss Odh has a sister in Glencoe, a brother in Chicago a brother in Hubbard Woods and her parents reside in Sweden. Her age was 28. She was exceptionally pretty and had been working for the DeWolf family for only three weeks.

Her left leg was broken, her right arm was shattered, and the spine was broken.

The engine number was 803 and the engine was class S. The only eye witness was a Lake Forester, whose story is told hereafter.

The story goes that the electric headlight from a street car on the suburban line so blinded the girl that she was unable to see the train coming while a sharp curve before the crossing is reached added to the complications.

The train is claimed to have been going at forty miles when the girl was struck. She stood on the south bound track and watched the train and engine approach without, apparently knowing which track it was coming upon. She ran right in front of it.

A new element was added to the mystery surrounding the death of Ricka Odh at Lake Forest Sunday night under the wheels of a fast Northwestern train when J. G. Ambly of Lake Forest asserted that he was an eye witness of the affair and that just before she was struck he had seen her with an unknown man walking near the scene of the accident. It is said the testimony of a Lake Forest policeman carries out this fact. It is also said that developments have shown that the only street car at that time come from the north.

Claim agents of the railroad, it is said, have given the Ambly story considerable credence and may of the belief that some unknown man was with the girl just before she met death in one of its most horrible forms. Where he went or who he was remains a mystery.

ELEANORA HERMAN AND HUGO KELLY MARRIED MONDAY

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Herman have announced the marriage of their daughter Eleanora to Mr. Hugo Kelly, which took place in Chicago on Monday June 20.

The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Herman of Grass Lake and is one of the most popular young ladies of this vicinity in which she has resided all her life and has a large circle of friends who wish her a long and happy wedded life.

Mr. Kelly is a prominent young man whose home is in Chicago but is very well known here on account of having spent much of his time at this place during the past few years.

The young couple succeeded in springing a complete surprise upon their many friends as not even their most intimate friends were let into the secret which was confided to only a few of their nearest relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Kelly will spend the summer at the home of the bride's parents at Grass Lake.

The happy couple are not expected to return home for a couple of weeks but their many friends are patiently waiting to give them a warm reception. The news unites with them in extending to Mr. and Mrs. Kelly best wishes for a most bright and happy future.

WAUKEGAN CELEBRATION

Coming June 27 And will Continue
all The Week

Waukegan is surely going to do itself proud the week of June 27 to July 2 inclusive by way of a first annual street exposition week. This even begins on Waukegan day which is held annually, the entire carnival company of fifteen exhibitions and numerous free sensation acts will be held in the park for Monday only.

Following the big opening day at the park, the exposition company which is the Chicago United Carnival and Exposition Shows, will move down to Sheridan road, one block east of Genesee street to continue afternoon and evening of the entire week.

All kinds of free acts and concessions will be given at the park on Monday as well as each afternoon and evening while the shows are down town. Among the big exhibitions at the park and on the streets are: mechanical theater; the hippodrome; The South before the War; the curio hall; glass blowers exhibition; the Parisian models; the reptiles how; Lizzie the Hermitess; or the wild girl; the jail breaker. Everett; Madams Coleman's dog and pony show and others; three riding devices, merry-go-around, ocean wave and Ferris wheel, will assist in amusing and entertaining the old and young boys and girls.

All of these shows are clean and moral, being the only kind the committee in charge will tolerate.

The proceeds will be added to the fund for the purchase of the new park and a most worthy one, as Waukegan needs just such a place for the masses of men women and children, who do not possess such a luxury as a summer home or a large lawn round their homes.

No pains or expense are being spared by the general carnival and park committee to make this the biggest celebration ever held in these parts, one which will be one big lasting advertisement for the hustling city, and at the same time for a most worthy cause. Excursion rates will be given on all roads and steamboat line.

Fleekles' new Waukegan theater will be open to the public for free inspection and as a rest room for visitors during carnival week at Waukegan. The theater which will be managed by William A. Haas is fire proof from cellar to roof, being built of concrete and steel. It will play four vaudeville acts after carnival week, using an orchestra, latest picture devices etc., etc., the house is to be a beauty.

WIND HITS CIRCUS TENT

Blew Down Part of Wild Show Tent, Causing Alarm among Spectators

A panic was narrowly averted Saturday afternoon at the Wild west shows when the sudden wind storm struck the city.

Part of the large tent was blown down and, as the gust of wind took hold of the huge canvas, pandemonium broke loose for a moment. However, the crowd, while it broke and for amuse or two it appeared there would be a bad panic of women and children, the crowd soon saw that the whole tent was not down and that there was nothing serious the matter.

Then the crowd took the matter good naturally and the men and boys set to work with the circusmen to help get the tent back in shape and the performance was continued without further interruption as the wind died down.

A Waukegan man stood on a rope at the circus and kicked when the circus employe told him to get off. The two came together and for a moment a bad fight was looked for but the men were separated.

The wind-storm looked bad for a time and warnings about the city streets, etc., blown in a manner which indicated a small hurricane. No serious damage was done despite the very threatening appearance of the sky for a time.

$4,000 IN DIAMONDS STOLEN

The Firm of C. F. Ingalls and Brother at Waukegan
Meet With Heavy Loss

NO TRACE OF THE ROBBERS

Boldest Piece of Sneak-Thievery Ever in This Section When Thieves Enter Store
in Early Evening

One of the most daring sneak thief robberies that has been committed in Waukegan in years, took place Saturday evening when thieves took diamond rings from the jewelry store of C. F. Ingalls and Brother, valued at between $3,000 and $4,000.

The loot consisted of seventy-two rings, valued up to $400 each.

The police of Chicago, Milwaukee and other cities were notified as were also the insurance of detective agencies and they are all working on the case which is one of the worst of the kind reported in this section in years.

The robbery is believed to have occurred at about 6:30 o'clock.

It was about 6:30 when the first man entered the store. He walked to the rear and asked for violin strings. These are in a case in front and when Robert Ingalls started for them the stranger asked to see some photographic plates which occupied a place on a shelf near where he was standing.

While he was examining these the second man entered and asked Mr. Brown to see some silverware. A third clerk was at the time waiting on two women.

The belief is that, while the employees were thus engaged with the men and women the third man sneaked behind the counter in the front part of the store and slipped the trays containing the diamond rings under his coat and slipped out quietly and unnoticed.

The robbery was not discovered until between 9:30 and 10 o'clock when Robert Ingalls started to put away the jewelry for the night. Then he found the trays gone.

The connection between the men in question and their determined effort to concentrate the attention of the employees to distant parts of the store, led to the belief that the gang had worked a clever scheme in order to loot the store of the valuables.

Chiefs Connolly and Tyrrell were at once notified and started work on the case.

The description of the men who had entered the store was given the police and they sent these out to officials along the line. However, the fact that the men had three hours start before the robbery was discovered, indicates that the chances for locating the jewels are rather small. The likelihood is that the thieves would break the diamonds out of the rings, melt up the gold and hold the diamonds until they can safely dispose of them.

The robbery was rather co-incidental because, on Friday night, at the park celebration meeting, Robert Ingalls, who is secretary of the celebration, made the statement that the $100 diamond ring which would be awarded the queen of the carnival, would be placed on exhibition in their window at once, the purchase having been made.

"Don't let it be stolen as were the Sun contest diamonds a few years ago when the window was smashed and the rings taken out," remarked one of the committee. Everybody smiled and Mr. Ingalls remarked that it would be locked up at night. And to think that the next night 72 times as many rings were stolen from the store.

The diamonds stolen were kept in patent trays, locked in the show case and in every way protected as is done now-a-days in a modern jewelry store.

HISTORY OF THE PANTOMIME

Was First Introduced to the English Stage in 1702—Has Always Been Popular.

The first pantomime introduced to the English stage was "Tavern Bilkers," and was by John Weaver. This was in the year 1702. It was produced at Drury Lane. The great institution of pantomime in England was, however, John Rich, who devised this form of entertainment in 1717. His first emphatic success was in 1724, when he produced "The Necromancer; or, History of Dr. Faustus." So successful was Rich with his pantomimes that Garrick, Quin and others became exasperated. Rich lived to see pantomime firmly established at Drury Lane and Covent Garden. He died in 1761.

Regarding the subjects of pantomimes the most popular theme this year is, we are informed, "Cinderella," with "Babe in the Wood" second and "Dick Whittington" third. If the London and suburban pantomimes are taken alone, "Cinderella" will again be first, while "Babe in the Wood" and "Aladdin" tie for second place. In London and the provinces "Cinderella" has been chosen 14 times, "Babe in the Wood" 13 times and "Dick Whittington" ten times.

Looking back over the last 18 years we find that the most popular subjects have been "Cinderella," "Aladdin," "Dick Whittington," "Robinson Crusoe," and "Babe in the Wood," in the order given.

Old-Time Favorite Dishes.

Many of the favorite dishes of today have come down through the ages. Griddle cakes date back to the middle ages, when they were a favorite with the Britons of Wales; macareons have taken their place as a dessert since the time of Chaucer, and the boys have enjoyed their gingerbread and the girls have lunched on pickles for 500 years, or ever since King Edward II. "set the style."

Fragile Leaf of Gold.

While a leaf of gold is so thin that it is impossible to measure its thickness, scales have been made which weigh it accurately. One leaf weighs one-fifth of a grain. It is so light that a breath will blow it away. Held to the light, it is translucent and greenish.

Limitations of Genius.

The happiest genius will hardly succeed by nature and instinct alone in rising to the sublime. Art is art, he who has not thought it out has no right to call himself an artist.—Goethe.

CHARACTER IN FINGER NAILS

Information That Will Be Taken by the Wise for Just What It Is Worth.

It is said there is as much character to be observed from a person's finger nails as from the owner's face. The following indications are stated to be fairly correct.

Those possessing long nails are good natured and self-confident, but placing very little confidence in others. Broad nails are supposed to belong to those of a gentle and bashful disposition. Little round nails are the sign of a person who is seldom pleased, readily inclined to anger, spiteful and revengeful. Anyone with fleshy nails is said to be calm and easy-loving, fond of eating and sleeping, and who would prefer a small income without industry to much wealth to be acquired by activity and diligence. Pale or lead-colored nails belong to the melancholy person, but who would do well in all branches of science or philosophy. The long, well-shaped filbert nail indicates a refined and artistic nature, fondness of society, and a great love of the beautiful.

Smoking in Ancient Days.

It seems very probable that there were smokers in England long before the introduction of tobacco, according to the London Chronicle. Pipes have been discovered imbedded in the mortar of churches built before Europe's first acquaintance with tobacco, and it seems only reasonable to suppose that the people of that day smoked herbs of some sort either medicinally or for pleasure. Colichest was inhaled for asthma, though whether a pipe was used in the process remains a matter for conjecture.

Cat Mother's Duckling.

At an Oxfordshire (Eng.) village a duckling was the solitary result of a setting of eggs, and, careless of its fate, the owner gave it to the cat, who was suckling a kitten. The cat at once took to the little stranger, and now waives and nurses it with the same care as she devotes to her own offspring.

The Smallest Tree.

Naturalists say the smallest tree in the world is the Greenland birch. This miniature tree grows to a height of less than three inches, although it spreads over a radius of two or three feet.

Growth of Population.

Insurance authorities tell us that it requires about 300,000 new houses every year to supply our increase of population and 80,000 more to take the places of those that are destroyed by fire.

Prepare to attend this Manufacturer's Outlet Sale, let nothing stand in your way, for it's destined to be greater and mightier than ever. It's going to throw into obscurity all previous attempts at bar-worth of merchandise from the consolidated manufacturers of New York at prices that are less than the cost of production. While the usual custom of these manufacturers is to unload their surplus warehouses so overstocked that more than ordinary price cutting efforts were necessary. They looked to the merchants of this country for an outlet; they advertised their great unloading sale and mercilessly cut the prices. Telephone Antioch 581

THURSDAY, JUNE 23, 1910

Libertyville again comes into the lime light. Samuel Insull who is organizing the greatest power trust in the west, lives there.

Why "go bugs" as the schoolboy, says over the postal savings bill at Washington. The Antioch banks have always been good enough for us.

The wire trust is to be investigated as being a criminal combination. Suppose Waukegan holds off a bit before calling herself the "Wire City."

Roosevelt prepaid the telegram to Waukegan when declining to be present at the welcome offered at that fair city. Another laurel in our neighbor's wreath.

The good people of Zion prayed for a week over a man with a snake bite and the man died. We have always heard whiskey was the thing for a snake bite.

That electric railroad to Antioch bringing us in touch with all points of the compass is still one of these delightful experiences we have after we go to sleep.

Voliva has re-established the tithe tax on his goats at Zion. Old Elijah did this with impunity but there are more billies over there than there used to be and some of them may butt.

Elgin is going in for the right kind of waterways. Some citizens there are going to dredge Fox river so they can run their motor boats up to the Antioch lakes. The beauty of it is, they are not going to ask the state to pay for it, either.

A bottle was found in Lake Michigan the other day containing a slip of paper upon which was written "I was born in Springfield but am now in Heaven." Pessimists should be shown this. It proves there is a direct route from Springfield to Heaven. That is, if you are satisfied with the proof.

The Democrats seem to be growing desperate over Bryan. They are now passing petitions out in Nebraska asking him to run for the U. S. Senate. They no doubt think that if they once get him into the senate that will keep him from running for President again. They may be stepping on a banana peel.

State's Attorney Dady is going after a millionaire named Holt down in Lake Forest for his taxes. We are glad to see the state's attorney has taken our hunch but the News still insists there is a whole bunch of them that should be gone after to help pay the county expenses. We hope this is only the start for Dady.

In Peoria on June 27th and 28th some worthy souls are going to hold a convention to deal with the question: "how to make our state legislature more up to the standard of Abraham Lincoln who was once a member." To us this looks more like a matter for a mothers' club. Let us have some more Abraham Lincolns born.

The waterways proposition has received a jolt from an unexpected source.

Representative "Missing" Link testified in the Browne case in Chicago the other day that he voted for Lorimer because he believed in the waterways project. He ought to be indicted for that even if Wayman says he can go free for everything else.

The Democrats up on the north side, Chicago, are going to hold a caucus to decide who shall run against Congressman Foss in the coming campaign. Don't the Lake county Democrats cut any figure in this matter at all? Perhaps they consider themselves lucky to be allowed a chance to vote, after everything is cut and dried.

Speaker Shurtleff is not only opening our eyes on the waterways subject but he is taking hold of this milk investigation problem in a manner that shows his executive force. He is chairman of the legislative committee and he is a live wire as he always has been. One thing is sure, the farmer need have no worry as to the outcome while Speaker Ed. is at the helm. He believes in proper hygienic regulations but no fadist of a Chicago doctor or interne can put one over him. Shurtleff knows the game from start to finish and all its angles and results you may be sure will not go all to the Chicago end of the line.

Keep This in Sight

There is going to be some hysterics and there is going to be some mere tom-foolery in the state campaign that is before us. Scandals and rumors of scandals have made the tender and the timid believe everything is rotten while by the same slogan the hard headed business man thinks possibly, that any washing of linen is unfortunate at this time.

We disagree with both. Everything is not rotten in state affairs as the tender and timid would have us believe and if there is any linen to be wasted we would tell that same hard headed business man the quicker it is done and over with the better for him.

The thing we wish you to keep in sight, all of you, is that the weaknesses of human kind are now no different than they ever were and that further, it is necessary to make a check on those weaknesses from time to time if they are to be eliminated at all.

Because several men have been indicted by a popular state's attorney or two or because there seems to be something like a "jack pot" getting in action at Springfield doesn't mean that we are all down and out both morally and financially.

Let us be calm in this furor. There are honest men still who represent us at our state capital. There are men who are Democrats who voted for Senator Lorimer because they thought him the best man, we believe.

There may have been a "jack pot" fund and some who are corrupt may have participated in it, but there should be nothing new to the tender and timid and for the hard headed business man, he should welcome any possible exposure because as he well knows he is the one who is bled in the end.

The fact that a few are under charge of malfeasance should not justly culminate the entire body. Who would dare say that Speaker Shurtleff was ever responsible for anything dishonest—who would insinuate that Gov. Deneen, with all his mock heroic weeping ever put his hand into a "jack pot?"

The News believes in house cleaning where there is house cleaning to be done, but because the kitchen is dirty it is no reason that the living room and parlor is in the same condition.

Again we suggest the thing you keep in sight is, that if all this that is going on, finds weaknesses and wrong that should be checked and punished nobody should be alarmed.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect it.

How To Find Out. Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a brick dust sediment, or settling, stringy or milky appearance often indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back are also symptoms that tell you the kidneys and bladder are out of order and need attention.

What To Do. There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills almost every wish in correcting rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. Corrects inability to hold water, and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest because of its remarkable health restoring properties. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Mention this paper and remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

BROWNE IN DEFENSE

Assault Is Begun on White's Bribe Story.

LABOR CHIEFS BROUGHT IN

State Closes Its Case—Judge McSurely Denies Motion to Instruct Jury to Return Verdict of Not Guilty.

Chicago.—Without any opening statement to the jury attorneys for the defense in the Lee O'Neill Browne bribery trial put their first witnesses on the stand Monday. The state closed its case Saturday, after Representative Charles A. White, H. J. C. Beckmeyer and Michael Link had testified that they had received $1,000 each from the defendant. Link's testimony in this regard differed from that of the other two men by denying that when Browne had handed him the money the latter had said it was given for the Lorimer vote, or for any other act performed. Each representative, although all are Democrats, testified that they had voted for Mr. Lorimer for senator.

Before any witness was called by the defense Judge McSurely was kept busy for awhile overruling motions made by Browne's counsel.

First, counsel asked the court to take the case from the jury and order a verdict of not guilty. The motion was promptly denied by Judge McSurely.

Then Attorney Forest moved to exclude the most important sections of the testimony given by Representatives White, Beckmeyer and Link, all of whom admitted on the witness stand that they received money after having voted for Lorimer. The court declined to instruct the jury to disregard the testimony given by these witnesses.

The first witness the defense put on the stand was Representative Charles A. White, who was recalled for further cross-examination.

It became apparent that labor leaders are to be brought into the trial. Judge McSurely issued subpoenas for the three members of the legislative committee of the Chicago Federation of Labor who were delegated to attend the sessions of the last legislature.

In addition to this two of the leading witnesses were labor men—George F. Gloss, a motorman, and George Doyle, inspector of engines for the Wabash railroad and a member of the International Association of Machinists.

Gloss' testimony had to do with certain alleged conversations he had had with White, when, it is claimed, White talked of the prospective election of William Lorimer to the United States senate. Doyle testified to several conversations he is declared to have had with White in Springfield shortly prior to the election of Lorimer.

White, on cross-examination, denied having told Gloss that he was going to vote for Lorimer because the senator was a friend of the street car men and also that he told Gloss that Lorimer was going to get him a "fat job" after his election.

William Russell of the machinists' union testified that White had told him during a conversation that "these fellows" would have to "come across good and plenty" and that he would be "flying high" before long.

Gloss on the stand admitted that in a conversation with White the latter had told him he intended to vote for Lorimer because he was a friend of the street car men. Later, Gloss testified, White said to him:

"My name was away down in the list during the voting and when it came my turn I was undecided as to what to do, so I just called out 'Lorimer' and let it go at that."

Doyle, who was a labor lobbyist at Springfield, testified that in a conversation White had said to him:

"You are the tightest bunch I ever saw. What do you think we fellows are going to live on—wind?"

The witness said that White impressed him as a man who would take a bribe.

Kathryn Woods of East St. Louis, the woman who had been often seen in the company of Representative White, was called to the stand. She testified that White had told her that he "was after the Lorimer bunch," and that he had already spent $3,000 as a member of the legislature, "and would get it all back and considerable more after my story of the Illinois legislature is printed."

Miss Woods also testified that she changed several railroad passes for White.

She further stated that White had told her that he had many influential friends in Chicago and that after the story concerning Lorimer and Browne would become public White intended to leave for Europe.

A number of character witnesses testified that the reputation of the defendant was good.

Police Balked in Murder.

New York.—The police who apparently balked at the skillfully planned murder of Moses Sachs, the aged jeweler, who was murdered for $3,000 worth of diamonds and $300 in bank bills, and then stuffed into a trunk which was left in a hallway of a house on Goerck street. The trunk was found Saturday. It is the hope of the police that the trunk can be traced to the dealer and hence to the purchaser. The autopsy shows that the old man was choked into insensibility and then put alive in the trunk.

IN A SERIOUS CONDITION.

A Case of Terrible Kidney Trouble.

Henry Palmer, Cole and Walnut Sts., Barnesville, O., says: "My kidney trouble was caused by hardships and exposure in the army. The awful pains across my back gradually became more severe until I was in constant misery. My feet and hands were swollen to twice their natural size. The kidney secretions were in a terrible condition—for months I voided what seemed to be clear blood. I became so dizzy everything seemed to whirl. My condition was alarming when I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. Before long I improved and was soon strong and well."

A Tart Tongue. Col. Robert C. Carter, at a Nashville banquet, was talking about campaign comrades.

"Then there was Dash of Company A," he said. "Dash had the reputation of being the nastiest-tongued man in the regiment."

"It was Private Dash," you know, who, out foraging one evening on a rich estate, came accidentally upon the owner's wife, a grande dame in evening dress.

"Dash asked her for food. She refused him. He asked again. But, still refusing, she walked away."

"No," she said, "I'll give you nothing, trespassing like this! I'll give you nothing. My mind is made up."

"Made up, is it?" said Dash. "Like the rest of you, sir?"

Honored by the Governor. Effusive compliments have been paid to Governor Marshall many times, but it remained for an old Irish woman to cap the climax.

The governor met her at a funeral which he attended the other day and she was full of reverence for the Indiana executive.

"Ah," she said, "an' 'tis the governor" and she swallowed up the governor's slim right hand in her own right hand, made large and muscular by many days of toll. "Yis, 'tis the governor, an' 'tis glad I am to see ye, governor, an' I hope the corpse is honored by your presence."—Indianapolis News.

Why He Quit. "Bondsomby has given up smoking." "Impossible. He's been a slave to the habit for years."

"He's given it up, all right." "Why? Did the doctor order him to do it on account of his nerves?"

"No, I don't believe so; but you know that pench'ot a stenographer he's had for the past few weeks? Well, I happened to overhear her say one day, when Bondsomby was listening, that she would be as willing to kiss a pig as to kiss a man who was always smoking."

Paired. She was an amiable old lady, and volunteered much information to the fair stranger who had come down to see an important event in the country town—the laying of the foundation stone of the new church.

"Yes," prattled the old lady, "that is the duke and duchess, and the couple bohlid them are the mayor and mayress; and those two to the right are the vicar and—er—vixen."—Ideas.

A DETERMINED WOMAN. Finally Found a Food That Cured Her.

"When I first read of the remarkable effects of Grape-Nuts food, I determined to secure some," says a woman in Salisbury, Mo. "At that time there was none kept in this town, but my husband ordered some from a Chicago traveler."

"I had been greatly afflicted with sudden attacks of cramps, nausea, and vomiting. Tried all sorts of remedies and physicians, but obtained only temporary relief. As soon as I began to use the new food the cramps disappeared and have never returned."

"My old attacks of sick stomach were a little slower to yield, but by continuing the food, that trouble has disappeared entirely. I am today perfectly well, can eat anything and everything I wish, without paying the penalty that I used to. We would not keep house without Grape-Nuts."

"My husband was so delighted with the benefits I received that he has been recommending Grape-Nuts to his customers and has built up a very large trade on the food. He sells them by the case to many of the leading physicians of the county, who recommend Grape-Nuts very generally. There is some satisfaction in using a really scientifically prepared food."

Why He Whitewashed.

A country doctor tells a story of a man who moved into a dilapidated old cottage, and was found by the doctor busily whitewashing it inside and out. "I'm glad to see you making this old place so nice and neat," said the physician. "It's been an eyesore in the neighborhood for years." "Tain't nothing to me about eyesores," was the reply. "The last couple what lived here had twins three times, and I hear whitewash is a good disinfectant. Ye see we've got ten children."

Conditional Pity.

Two Scotch fishermen, James and Sandy, belated and befogged on a rough water, were in some trepidation lest they should never get ashore again. At last Jamie said:

"Sandy, I'm steering, and I think you'd better put up a bit of prayer." "I don't know how," said Sandy.

"If you don't I'll chuck ye overboard," said Jamie.

Sandy began: "Oh, Lord, I never asked anything of ye for fifteen years, and if ye'll only get us safe back, I'll never trouble ye again, and—"

"Whist, Sandy," said Jamie. "The boat's touched shore; don't be beholden to anycoy."—Short Stories.
